Town Benefits from Bank's Success

MILLBURY - Joseph L. DiConza, President of Fidelity Co-operative Bank, and Marylou A. Drapeau, Manager of the Bank's Millbury Office, present a check for $2,500 to Millbury Parks Commissioner Steven Trottier. This donation represents a portion of funds allocated by the Bank to designated communities for Parks and Recreational purposes, as a way of saying "Thanks" to area residents for contributing to the Bank's success.

The funds will be used to create additional parking at Thomas C. Morey Park on Washington Street, as well as repaving of the existing parking lot to encourage greater use of the restored facilities by area families.

Board reverses vote on special election and advertises for candidates for Tax Collector

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - The Selectmen's June 29 meeting convened at 7:00 p.m. with all members present. Faced with a busy agenda, Chairman Jude Cristo asked to set aside time to consider signing an agreement with Clerks represented by Local 495; the item was not on the agenda. The agent for Local 495, Bob Odgren, was present. Cristo said he assumed everyone on the Board was aware of the particulars of the agreement.

Cristo asked for a motion to sign the agreement. Having received a motion from Gauthier, he asked for a second. Pausing and not getting a response he asked, "May I have a second, please." Pausing with again no response, he asked, "Is there a second?"

Board member Roland Lachance gave the motion a second which was then followed by a discussion initiated by Selectman Gerry Bleau over wording in a section of the contract dealing with layoffs. "The paragraph and preceding wording totally confuses me," Bleau said. "If you are cut more than ten hours, you would then have the right to do all kinds of things."

Personnel Board Chairman Paul Crawford said there was a change in language from the original contract.

"I must have missed that," Bleau said. "It caught me by surprise." He then referred to another paragraph which, he said, contradicts the paragraph relative to bumping rights. "This could have a ripple effect and disrupt the operation of government," he said.

Crawford explained that the new language "would allow for bumping into a position that would give them their full seniority rights."

Bleau then said, "This could lead into progressive bumping."

Crawford acknowledged that would more than likely happen. "It gives the employee with the seniority the right to bump to another position, using that seniority," he said.

"This would be giving someone carte blanche to go wherever they wanted, regardless of the effect on government," Bleau said.

Cristo asked Bleau whether the vote to approve the contract would be 3-1, given his comments.

Bleau indicated he would vote for the contract, but said he thought that too much was given away.

The vote was 4-0-1 with Selectman Bernard Plante abstaining.

Dog Officer

Cristo noted that Dog Officer George Royal would be retiring tonight and that starting July 1, the town would be without a dog officer.

Royal was present and said he would be willing to help out until a replacement could be found.

Cristo suggested that Royal be paid at the current rate.

Bleau said that could not be as there is not enough money left in the budget account.

Cristo suggested that Royal be paid on a 1/12th basis.

Royal declined that offer.

Later in the meeting, the Board met with dog officer candidate P.T. Boates who expressed her interest in the vacancy. She said she has had experience dealing with dogs and cats and was interested in seeing that animals are not abused. She also noted she would have the time as she is retired and would be able to answer calls. "I get along with animals and am good with people also," she said.

SUTTON - Beverly Brown, Principal of the Sutton Elementary School and Assistant Superintendent, was recently honored by the Sutton Lions Club as their 1993 Citizen of the Year. Brown was cited for numerous accomplishments, including "her role in fostering educational excellence at the Elementary School, her ability to foster parental and volunteer participation, and her sensitivity toward the needs of disabled youth." She was also recognized for her "tireless support of community projects" such as Kids Country and Waters Farm.

"The Sutton Lions could not recognize a more deserving member of our community," said Phil Whitney, Club Secretary who presented the award. "Beverly Brown is very highly respected at the local, state and national level for her many efforts and accomplishments. She represents the true spirit of Lionism with her strength, dedication and determination to help others, particularly our youth."

This is the 6th anniversary of the local Lions Club Award which began in 1988. Former recipients include the Leo Moroney Family (1988), Evelyn Shaw (1989), Mary Arakelian (1990), Dr. Martyn Bowden (1991), and Leona Dona (1992).

A plaque bearing the names of all recipients hangs in the Sutton Town Hall and reads, "To recognize those individuals in our community whose tireless efforts and extraordinary service to others have improved the quality of life in our beloved town of Sutton."

"This year we again extended an open invitation to the citizens of the town to share in the process by nominating town citizens. The response was wonderful," said Jerry Anderson, Club President, "with several heartwarming nominations being received. There are so many fine people in our town who work in quiet ways to give of themselves with the common goals to help their neighbor. Each in his or her own way is a Citizen of the year every day."

The following officers of the local Lions Club were recently installed: President, Jerry Anderson; Secretary, Phil Whitney; Treasurer, Jim Crosby; First V.P. Marty McGovern; Second V.P., Rich Burns; Third V.P., Greg Davagian; Membership Chairperson, Al Trychon; Campaign Sight First Chairperson, Dave Perry; Lion Tamer, Rene Hebert; Tail Twister, Brad Lange; Assistant Tail Twister, Mike Jerz; One Year B.O.D., Stu Anderson and Terry Windle; Two Year B.O.D., Larry Morris and George Cobane.

We The People...

To the Editor:
Q: How you spell support?
A: Millbury!

To all the Parade spectators, contributors, participants, and the Millbury Police Department: that's right, support means Millbury, MA.

I would like to thank you once again for all that you do to make the Independence Day Parade such a success. The tradition of this parade lives on and we are glad in having all of you being the most important part of it.

To the spectators who line the streets, rain or shine, and decorate their homes and businesses, making for a wonderful atmosphere, thank you!

To the contributors, each year this list just keeps growing. Without your generous support none of this would be possible. Thank you!

To the participants, thank you for your time and effort put into your entry. I only wish an award could be given to each and every one of you. Thank you!

To Chief Richard Handfield and the Millbury Police Department for their generous support during the parade. Thank you!

This annual tradition is now going into its 10th anniversary year. I am overjoyed with the loyal support shown by all of you and with your continued support in 1994 we look forward to bringing you a most memorable Tenth Anniversary Independence Day Parade.

Again, to all of you, the spectators, contributors, volunteers, and the Millbury Police Department, I would like to thank you for your patronage.
Len Horton, parade chairman
Millbury Lions Club

Thank You...

On behalf of Cub Scout Pack 108, I would like to commend the people in town for their outstanding decorating of the parade route on Sunday, June 27. It was truly refreshing to see so many people involved in the spirit of the holiday and patriotism. We would like to congratulate Edie Montour and Brian Yeomans for winning the contest and a special thanks to both for their generous contribution of half of the winnings to Pack 108.

Dwinell Named 'Democrat of the Year'

MILLBURY - Former State Representative and Selectman Richard J. Dwinell has been selected to be the recipient of the 1993 Leo P. Bachant Democrat of the Year Award. The award is given annually by the Millbury Democratic Town Committee.

Dwinell's service to the Town of Millbury spans 54 years. He was a long time member of the Democratic Town Committee and has held various elected offices in addition to those of Representative and Selectman. He is currently serving on the Millbury Housing Authority, to which he was elected, and has held numerous appointed positions throughout his many years of service.

"Dick's dedication to the Town of Millbury and to the Democratic ideal makes him an outstanding choice for this year's award," said Bob Brainard, chairman of the Selection Committee.

The banquet will be held October 10 at the Charles F. Minney V.F.W. Post.

Mental illness has warning signs, too.

Withdrawal from social activities. Excessive anger. These could be the first warning signs of a mental illness. Unfortunately, most of us don't recognize the signs. Which is tragic. Because mental illness can be treated. In fact, 2 out of 3 people who get help, get better.

Massachusetts Electric's Appliance Recycling Program

Mention the word "recycling" to most people and they think of things like bottles and cans. But Massachusetts Electric would like to help you recycle something a little bit bigger; namely the parts of that old second refrigerator or freezer chugging away in your basement or garage, using electricity inefficiently, which can cost you as much as $200 per year on your electric bill.

You see, running your old clunker not only costs you a lot of money, it also affects the environment. Simply put, wasting energy puts a strain on our natural resources.

FREE PICK-UP. BIG SAVINGS.

If you've got a second refrigerator or freezer running in your home, and you are a Massachusetts Electric customer, call our Appliance Recycling Hot Line at 1-800-962-3939 or fill out and mail the coupon below. We'll arrange a time and day that's convenient for you to pick it up FREE OF CHARGE, and make sure it's disposed of and its parts recycled in an environmentally responsible manner.

You'll save the removal charges. You'll save on your electric bill (up to $200 per year!). And most importantly, you'll help save energy and the environment.

EASY TO PARTICIPATE

Massachusetts Electric's Appliance Recycling Program is just one of many ways we're helping you make Smart Energy Decisions that save you money, conserve energy and protect the environment. What's more, it's easy to qualify* and participate: Just call 1-800-962-3939 to schedule a pick-up or fill out the coupon below.

 Your second refrigerator or freezer must be operable, cold at time of pick-up, owned by you, and in Massachusetts Electric's service territory. Under-the-counter and "dorm style" refrigerators are not eligible.*

Cristo asked if she knows how to euthanize dogs and whether she has a local place to kennel any dogs that are picked up.

Boates acknowledged that she does not know how to euthanize animals but said she could learn. As to the kenneling of dogs, she said she would have to see what arrangements she could make. She also said she assumes she would have the use of the town owned vehicle that Royal used. Boates also said she would possibly need the help of an assistant.

Police Chief Richard Handfield expressed concern about injured animals. "I don't want police officers blowing off rounds on cats or dogs that may have to be killed. We need someone who can respond quickly (to an injured animal), especially in congested areas."

Boates said she would seek the help of a vet to learn how to euthanize.

Sewer Commissioners

The Board met with the Chairman of the Sewer Commissioners, Gary Nelson, and newly-appointed Commissioner Happy Erickson. Commissioner Skip Prue was also present but could not vote on a candidate for his replacement this evening since he has applied for retirement. Erickson was voted in at the last meeting to replace George Buron who also retired. There were no other candidates who had applied at that time.

Three candidates applied for the position vacated by Prue: Frank Gagliardi, Bill Hamilton and Jack Lilley.

Letters from Gagliardi and Lilley were read, expressing their interest and background for the vacated position.

Cristo asked Hamilton if he would like to say something on his own behalf.

Hamilton said he was interested in serving the town and he heard someone was needed for the position.

Gagliardi wrote, "As a life long resident of Millbury I am deeply interested in its future and its welfare, and the desire and commitment to serve it in some capacity. In the past I have been a member of several town boards including the Capital Budget/Revenue Sharing Committee for ten years, Youth Center Study Committee and the Town Bi-Centennial Committee. I continue to serve on various local charitable and business boards such as the District Nursing Society, Historical Society and the Millbury Savings Bank."

Lilley said he was interested in becoming a commissioner because he is familiar with many of the problems with which the commission is faced. "I am particularly knowledgeable about the need to sewer the Paul Revere and Dorothy Pond areas," Lilley wrote. "I believe I can provide constructive input into developing solutions to these problems which are cost effective and consistent with the goals of the Sewer Commission."

Lilley also offered his experience and background: "I am a metallurgical engineer with a Bachelor of Science in Engineering with a major in Metallurgy and Science and Engineering. I also hold a Master of Science Degree in Materials Science Engineering," he wrote. "I have held various technical and operating positions in the primary metals industry and am familiar with the operation and maintenance of large industrial plants. In my present position as Technical Manager for Wollaston Alloys in Braintree," Lilley continued, "I have responsibility for all aspects of environmental affairs. I am familiar with environmental regulations including the Clean Water Act. Additionally, I have recently completed training as a Toxic Use Reduction Planner and taken the exam required for certification by the Commonwealth. Exam results are pending but I expect to be certified at the earliest opportunity."

Cristo asked if anyone had any questions. Hearing none, he explained that the vote would be taken on a roll call of both boards.

Gagliardi was unanimously approved to replace Prue.

The appointment stands until the next election.

Syl Bourdeau, of Leslie Lane, asked why this same procedure wasn't followed on June 15th when Erickson was appointed? He said at that meeting, there was no reading of any resume and no interview.

Nelson said the commissioners met with Erickson at one of their meetings.

Bourdeau asked if that did not require a public hearing. Cristo said only the appointment must be made at a public meeting.

Bourdeau said the selectmen had set a precedent when they conducted interviews for a replacement for a vacancy on the school committee last year. "Is this a precedent or not," he asked.

"It's not a precedent," replied Cristo.

"Is this the way you are going to conduct town business? Are you going to interview people and have them come in here?" Bourdeau asked.

Cristo interrupted Bourdeau saying, "Time out! This is the way I run it. I wasn't here at the other meeting (when Erickson was appointed)."

Visibly upset and speaking in loud tones, Vice Chairman Donald Gauthier, who presided over the last meeting in Cristo's absence, said to Bourdeau, "Two weeks ago, Mr. Bourdeau, you were here and you know what happened. I questioned why Mr. Erickson was not here that night. It was suggested he didn't have to be here. We knew Mr. Erickson so we didn't think we had a problem, so we didn't have to bring him in here to interview. That's why we appointed him." With his voice rising, Gauthier said, "That's it".

"That may be," Bourdeau countered, "but I have not gotten an answer to my question. What is your policy?" "We do a lot of appointing of people on different boards," Gauthier said. "Most of the board members know who they are. If we know who they are

There are lots of reason to visit your Millbury Public Library. One very good reason is to protect yourself by arming yourself with the legal information you may need. Here are some very good ways you can do just that.

MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL LAWS - This up-to-date 60-volume set is one that most lawyers use and you can use it too at the library. The four volume index is the key to its contents.

LEGAL PLANNING FOR THE ELDERLY IN MASSACHUSETTS contains Massachusetts state laws covering the fastest growing segment of the American population.

LABOR AND EMPLOYMENT IN MASSACHUSETTS: A GUIDE TO THE EMPLOYMENT LAWS, REGULATIONS, AND PRACTICES - A reference intended for employers but may be useful to employees and labor organizations.

YOUR RIGHTS ON THE JOB: A PRACTICAL GUIDE TO THE EMPLOYMENT LAWS IN MASSACHUSETTS, written in laypersons terms for employees and employers alike.

SMALL CLAIMS COURT: MAKING YOUR WAY THROUGH THE SYSTEM - This step-by-step guide includes before court preparations, alternatives to consider, appeals and collecting awards.

STOP IT: A CONSUMER'S GUIDE TO EFFECTIVELY STOPPING COLLECTION AGENCY HARASSMENT provides the firepower you need to eliminate telephone harassment and embarrassment at the hands of Collection Agencies. Check out the book DEBTORS' RIGHTS for another legal self-help guide that provides protection to people who owe money.

PROBATE: SETTLING AN ESTATE - This book is written for the personal representative of an estate. It can also be helpful to those who have hired a lawyer, so that they know what happens at what stages along the way.

THE MASSACHUSETTS WOMAN'S DIVORCE HANDBOOK provides a useful outline of divorce law and practices in Massachusetts.

DOG LAW: A LEGAL GUIDE FOR DOG OWNERS AND THEIR NEIGHBORS - A legal guide to the laws that affect dogs and their neighbors by providing information on dog owners' liability for injuries to people, buying and selling dogs, dogs that bite, bark or create other nuisances, and more.

U.S.A. IMMIGRATION GUIDE - Covers the different requirements and regulations concerning immigration to this country. Includes information about the New Immigration Act.

HOW TO PROTECT YOUR SPOUSAL RIGHTS - If you recognize that marriage is a legal and financial union as well as a romantic one, you'll want to read this book to safeguard your personal assets.

HOW TO WIN IN TRAFFIC COURT - Here's a non-lawyer's guide to successfully defending traffic violations.

PROTECT YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY, MEDICARE, AND PENSION BENEFITS by Tom and Nancy Biracree - In addition to information about retiree entitlement, this book also provides information on protecting your pension rights and benefits as a widow, widower, or divorced spouse.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT: KNOW YOUR RIGHTS - Information for the employee and employers about sexual harassment and how to defend or protect yourself.

YOUR MEDICAL RIGHTS - Here's what to do to take charge of when, where and how you'll receive medical treatment and from whose hands.

These books can be found in the reference and circulation collections at the library. For legal information beyond the scope of the Millbury Public Library's collection, visit the Worcester Trial Court Law Library at the Worcester County Courthouse. From My Window on Farnsworth Court

By "Pastor Rae" Cameron

"My Window" this week is located in the basement of the Millbury Public Library. They took away my computer upstairs and allowed me to use the one in the basement after the children get through with it. It is fascinating to watch children play with a computer, and as I said to someone, "That's how they will one day drive their cars." Or better still, it will be how they will fly their airplanes or, already, it's how a space ship is controlled. Wow! What an age we are now living in.

It doesn't seem to matter what age we are living in, everyone seems to think it is the worst of times. Like before the French Revolution, Victor Hugo called it "the best of times" and "the worst of times." I know that for many people their employment and security are very questionable these days. As someone recently stated to me, after giving over 20 years to a company he finds out that he is only a number. That hurts.

What thrills me on the one hand, but concerns me deeply on the other, is that old adage of beating the swords into plowshares. It is great to realize that we don't need the defense weapons that we once thought necessary, but on the other hand there are many people who will be losing their jobs. There is one lady from our church who works up at Fort Devens helping those people to find other employment.

One of my readings recently pointed out that if we think that our times are bad, we should take a closer look at the times in which Jesus was born and the church began. There was the "pax romanus" but it was a cruel peace with very harsh punishments for any dissenters. Into this cruel world God sent His Son, Jesus Christ, to preach a message of love and of care. After a study for the Sermon on the Mount, I am convinced that if their teachings were followed, Israel would have conquered their Roman oppressors. Dear friends, these same teachings as well as the teacher will help you to be an overcomer in the age in which we now live. Amen.

It's a small place, our world.
It's made up of nearby communities and farms and neighbors we know by name.
Our headquarters are here. All our business is here.
And our interests and loyalties are here.
We're an independent community bank — and we have one purpose: to take care of our small world.
Your deposits with us are invested locally — in loans to your neighbors and communities. They're not invested somewhere else — for somebody else's benefit.
This area is our world, and you and your neighbors are the only people in it.
That makes us unworldly, doesn't it?
You bet it does.

and what they have done, we don't interview them."

Cristo said there is no written policy. "It's open to interpretation as to what members of the Board want to do," he said. "I told you what I do when I run a meeting, we interview the candidates. Mr. Gauthier makes a point: when we appoint people, if we are all familiar with that person and their background, it does not always require an interview. If there were several candidates involved and we didn't know several of them as to background and qualifications, we would probably bring them all in for interviews. I'm not going to belabor this. That's it. We are going on to the next agenda item.

Sewer Commissioner Gary Nelson asked the board for assistance on how to proceed with billing Forrow Builders for removal of septic waste at Paul Revere since they have filed bankruptcy. He said the Commissioners were led to understand that any transactions involving them were to be on a cash only basis.

The board agreed to ask town counsel how to proceed.

Vacation Time

Lori Prue, a municipal secretary, requested that she be given vacation time she said should be accrued to her despite the fact that the Personnel Board said she had a break in service. In a letter to the Board, she noted that she had an opinion from the Attorney General's Office and the Secretary of State's Office which said there was no break in her service and she should not be treated as a new employee but should retain her seniority rights and be given the vacation time.

Personnel Board Chairman Paul Crawford said the interpretation of the Personnel Board, based upon union language, is that if a person quits and then comes back and had stopped paying union dues, that would cost the individual his/her seniority.

Prue said in her letter that she was advised by the Secretary of State's Office that two similar cases were settled out of court in favor of the employee.

Bleau said he would move to give Prue the vacation time. Crawford said he has concerns with the way the situation came about. He explained that Prue's position was advertised and posted and filled by someone not in the union. "That person did not work out and left, and Lori Prue had a change of mind and went back to her old position. There are a couple of problems with that," Crawford said, "firstly the position she is in now has not been posted."

Prue said it had been posted.

"To my knowledge, it wasn't," Crawford said. "I was told it wasn't. The other issue is that there was a position apparently created in which she continued to work for the town, which I am not sure was authorized."

"What you're saying," Gauthier said, "is that they hired another person for her other job and she was working part time (for the town) also."

"That's right," Crawford said.

Cristo asked who made these appointments and was told Judy O'Connor, Director of the Council on Aging.

Cristo asked Crawford if he discussed this problem with O'Connor and was told he had.

Cristo suggested that a memo be put out to all departments so the problem will not arise again. "In some instances, I think it's just a lack of understanding of personnel guidelines," he said.

"Lets get Judy O'Connor over here and explain," said Lachance. "I sympathize with Paul. He is caught in the middle. All it is is hearsay, hearsay!"

Crawford noted that the town could have wound up with an extra employee. "There were offers of employment to two people," he said.

Gauthier seconded Bleau's motion to approve Prue's request. The vote was 4-1 with Lachance opposed. He said he didn't want to be in a position to have to correct the vote later.

Block Party

The Board addressed a problem related to the Lions Club's Block Party held in the downtown area two weeks ago. The Board, through Cristo, expressed in strong terms their dissatisfaction over incidents witnessed by three Board members.

Cristo read from a police report written by Sergeant Ed Perry who served as shift supervisor on the evening in question, which indicated that there was a loss of control of a large crowd in the lower Elm Street area, some of whom were underage and intoxicated. There were also incidents of fighting and a complaint of youths on the roof of a building on South Main St. A 13-year-old had difficulty breathing, allegedly because of alcohol consumption. In another instance, a woman was struck by a flying projectile. An arrest was made in one case, and ambulance assistance was called in another situation. A parent also called the Police station to report that her child had been given alcohol by someone in the rear of the A&D parking lot.

Cristo said the crowd was difficult to control because of the use of alcohol. "That was the most significant factor in loss of control," he said.

A&D Pizza manager Chris Andreopoulos maintained that the fights and problems happened off the restaurant parking lot site on the public street and sidewalk on Elm Street. He said he had five bouncers on duty, family and friends, and Officer Webb on duty at the lot. He questioned why Webb had not submitted a report since, Andreopoulos maintained, he (Webb) could substantiate his claims that the problems were not on A&D property.

Cristo said he heard of excessive drinking. "I don't know who might be on this Board come next year," Cristo told Andreopoulos, "but I would seriously have to give some thought about a block party with outside drinking. He noted that A&D has not had any problems inside the restaurant with their liquor license but said the outside party caused problems "and has given the sponsors, Millbury Lions Club, a black eye and the block party itself. I'm not saying it's all your fault," Cristo continued. "It's difficult to tell where they all got the alcohol as it was reported that some brought it in to the lot."

Andreopoulos charged that the individuals causing the fights came out of Donovan's Pub across the street.

Cristo said the problem could have been aggravated because the area was wide open. "If the access was though the establishment (A&D)," he said, "there might have been better control. As it happened, the crowd and problems rolled out onto the street."

Andreopoulos said he had not anticipated that large a crowd and, when he saw what the problems were as time went on, he closed the party down at 10 p.m. even though he could have remained open until midnight. He said if he was to do it again next year, he would hire more police officers.

Andreopoulos also said he spoke to the Lions Club about having another outside party next year, "and," he said, "they indicated they had no problem with us."

"The bottom line is," Cristo said, "the event caused difficulty with control. If you come in next year you will need more effective controls or it will be difficult to convince this Board."

Gauthier said he spent most of the night in the area and early on told Police Chief Handfield that there would be problems in that area of Elm Street. "There were people intoxicated," he said. "There were fights up the street."

Andreopoulos replied, "Sgt. Webb said they came out of Donovan's (Pub)."

Gauthier also said he didn't think all the bouncers hired by A&D were sober. "One, I thought, was incoherent," he said.

"I have dealt with that already," said Andreopoulos.

Cristo noted that the Board has revoked several licenses in the past. "I don't think you want that to happen to you," he told Andreopoulos.

Andreopoulos again said he did not think he would be that busy the night of the party.

Cristo said he is going by what the police report says: "As far as I'm concerned, what Sgt. Perry says in that report is gospel as I see it. End of discussion."

Andreopoulos again asked why there was no filing of a report by Sgt. Webb.

Cristo shot back with some emotion in his voice, "I don't care who didn't file a report. Perry was the Sergeant on duty, the Chief was a witness. I don't want to argue this with you. This is the end of the discussion. Good Night! It's the end of the discussion!"

Home Improvement Permits

The Board met with Building Inspector Rene Morin relative to seeking a clarification of the proposed fee to be charged for home improvement permits under the State's home improvement law.

Morin said he was suggesting a fee reduction from $25.00 to $10.00 for a permit to be obtained by a contractor or an individual homeowner if roofing and siding is to be done on a home. It's a protection for homeowners, he noted, since they can recover monies if there is a problem with work not being completed by a contractor.

Building Department Secretary Anne Kniskern noted that the permitting process requires that any contractor hired to do roofing and siding must be registered with the state and pay $200 the first year for that registration. The monies collected by the state go into a pool for loss and recovery by the homeowner. "It's the best insurance the homeowner can get," she said. "If the homeowners do the work themselves they pay a $10 permit fee and sign an affidavit they are doing it themselves. They are then liable. She noted that there have been many cases in town where homeowners have been left without the work being completed by a contractor they paid up front. If the contractor doesn't complete the job, then the homeowner can recover from the state pool.

The Board approved Morin's recommendation.

73 North Main Street

Syl Bourdeau spoke to the Board concerning an issue he brought up to them two weeks ago regarding property at 73 North Main St. which he said contained a solid waste dump. At Cristo's request, since he was not at that meeting, Bourdeau reviewed the problem and presented photos of the site.

Bourdeau said he asked for the board's assistance at the last meeting but was told by Gauthier that since all the other town departments involved had given permits to allow for the construction of a home on the site there was nothing the Selectmen could do.

"I took it upon myself to do something," said Bourdeau. "I sent letters to the Building Inspector, Board of Health (BOH), the Department of Environmental Affairs Solid Waste Division who, incidently, thought it important enough to send an inspector down to the site to look at what can be seen in the pictures," said Bourdeau. "I also sent a letter to the Attorney General."

Bourdeau said he went to a Board of Health meeting, showed the pictures to the members and was told they would take action and ask the owner, Michael Wilczynski, to voluntarily cease and desist work on the site. He said he understood that an inspector from the DEP and BOH Chairman Jim Morin met on the site. "I was further told," Bourdeau continued, "that the DEP inspector (Mike Penny) would pass his report on to his supervisor to see if further action should be taken such as test holes."

Bourdeau also showed Cristo and Building Inspector Rene Morin pictures he took that show a pile of debris that was taken out of the house site and moved to the rear of the property. The debris in the photo included several large blocks of cement, tree branches, a couple of stumps, a tire rim and a hub cap that were on the site near the foundation.

Morin agreed that the pile of debris in the photos was the same that he saw removed to the rear of the property by Wilczynski last week.

Bourdeau said this was a solid waste dump site which, according to DEP regulations, requires a permit.

Morin said the materials removed were there on the property when Wilczynski bought it from the former owner who had rehabilitated a house in the rear of the property.

Bourdeau also called attention to the distance the house is to be located from the Blackstone River in the floodplain: 101 feet from the river, which is one foot over the state requirement. He questioned whether that distance was measured from the appropriate spot since the river rises and falls.

Bourdeau also noted that the Town inspection form for this piece of property that was designed to show that the correct permitting process had been followed contains no signatures or dates next to the boxes that were checked off showing inspections had been completed. The only signature on the form is that of the landowner. "How do you know who signs off?" asked Bourdeau.

Tom Brown said the BOH has directed its secretary not to accept any unsigned and undated forms in the future.

Cristo asked if a memo had not been sent out to all departments several years ago indicating the proper procedure. "Whoever completes the forms should sign and date them," he said.

Bourdeau also said he was unable to get other inspection reports from the Board of Health as he was told they were in the computer. He said backup materials and originals should be made available to any citizen requesting a copy.

Bourdeau noted that in the most recent set of pictures he took, there are still several pieces of cement showing in the ground.

Cristo suggested that Morin stop by the site again. He also noted that Wilczynski has taken some corrective action. "If there is an obvious situation like this, it has to be taken care of," he said.

Bourdeau said that what disturbed him most was that the Board of Selectmen at the last meeting took no action.

Bourdeau then asked for a little more time for a few other issues, and was told by Cristo that he would have to get on another agenda. Cristo also said the Board has to allow others an opportunity to come before them and that the Board can't always allow Bourdeau to speak at every meeting even though he does bring in some enlightening views.

Bourdeau said his right to address issues of importance is guaranteed under the constitution.

Cristo asked him to provide Administrative Assistant Earl Chase some idea of the issues he wants to address so the Board can be prepared for any discussion.

Grafton Rd. Auto Repair

Cristo asked Building Inspector Rene Morin to address an on-going issue at DiBaro's Grafton Rd. Auto Repair relative to trucks owned by Bourget Trucking being parked on DiBaro's lot near an abutter who has made complaints.

Cristo said he has not seen the trucks parked there recently in the late afternoon or evening.

Morin asked and received permission to seek the advice of town counsel on information he said he received from a private party.

He also said the last letter he received from DiBaro indicates that he feels his civil rights may have been infringed upon and if the town pushes the issue, the matter could end up in court.

Cristo said he has noticed only one truck with its dump up recently parked there.

Morin said he heard that Bourget was parking his trucks at another location.

The Board also gave approval to a request from Morin that he be allowed to cover for the Oxford Building Inspector while he is on vacation for one week.

Cristo said that should provide Morin with an opportunity to see how and what processes Oxford may have relative to inspections and permitting.

Animal Control

The Board met with BOH members James Morin and Tom Brown who were present to ask for the $1000 that was budgeted in the past under "Animal Control," which comes under their jurisdiction. Morin and Brown were appointed by the state as animal control officers and are responsible for barn inspections, the quarantine of infected animals and also the removal of dead animals from the roads, with the exception of Rte. 146. They also transport dead animals to the state lab for testing for rabies.

The money in question was placed in a bid for "alternate services" in the area of animal control by the selectmen several months ago. A question was raised on how they would be paid.

Cristo suggested that they be paid in one check and, since both would be doing some of the duties, they could split the money. Morin and Brown said that would not work because taxes have to be deducted and they are paid on per call basis. Later on that was confirmed by the town auditor.

The discussion on who would be responsible for what relative to dog control and animal control went on for half an hour.

Lachance said the present by-laws are not working nor is the system of ticketing. He also noted that the Town of Grafton has a much lower dog control budget which leads him to believe they have more responsible dog owners. He suggested that since the present system is not working, it might be better to dump it.

The Board decided on a 4-1 vote, with Lachance opposed, to hire Critter Control, a Worcester-based wildlife management company, to manage dog control on a three month temporary basis.

Morin and Brown will meet with Critter Control and the Police Chief to see who is responsible for the various areas.

Special Election

The Board reversed a decision taken a month ago to hold a special election in September to fill positions on the sewer commission and planning board and the positions of tax-collector and town clerk. The Selectmen have made temporary appointments to those positions until the next election.

Bleau, who voted on the prevailing side to hold a special election (3-2), said he was asking for reconsideration to hold a special election in September even though he was not happy with the current pay scale of the temporary tax collector, Dave Cofske. Cofske, who is also Town Treasurer and holds a full time job, is being paid the same full time salary that the previous tax collector was paid although he allegedly is not working as many hours in that position as did the previous tax collector.

The Board voted unanimously for reconsideration and to reverse their previous vote. There will be no special election called by the selectmen at this time.

The Board accepted a petition of 500 signatures of individuals opposed to a special election that was presented by Archie and Bill Moore. The brothers said the consensus of those signing the petition was that they didn't think the money reported to be needed for a special election ($4,000-$7000) should be expended now when in another nine months the annual election will be held.

Cristo told the Moore brothers that if a petition with 2000 names came in requesting a special election, one would have to be held. The brothers said they were aware of that potential.

Miscellaneous

In other action, the Board:

- approved five individuals to serve on a search committee to seek a replacement for Earl Chase: John Donnelly, Dave Matson, Tom Fox, Tom Clawson and Mike Maguire.

- approved a recommendation to appoint Jennifer Belisle to serve on the Youth Commission. Bleau questioned whether there could be a conflict of interest since her brother already serves on the Commission. He was told by Gauthier that there would not be a conflict and was reminded that the husband and wife team of Judy and Bruce Nichols also serve on the commission.

- agreed to call in to the next meeting, members of a newly formed committee to study land uses in an area of Rte 20 that is being studied by the Central Massachusetts Regional Planning Commission (CMRPC) for a joint venture with Millbury and Worcester for a possible industrial park.

Cristo said a recent article in the Telegram and Gazette was somewhat premature about the venture being accomplished since the committee being formed will have serious input and will be a definite factor in any proposals. He said the local committee could work like the local MBTA Study Committee did in its deliberations.

- voted 5-0 to approve the release for sale of two acres of land owned by George Stowe under Chapter 61, agricultural land. There were no town departments who wished to exercise the town's option to purchase the property for public use.

- held up a similar request from a Mrs. Chaffee for land located on North Oxford Road until all boards have had a chance to express whether they wish to exercise the option for the land.

- approved the auctioning of surplus equipment no longer needed by the fire department.

Volunteers needed for committee

MILLBURY - The Millbury Public Library is looking for volunteers to serve on its ADA Evaluation Committee. The purpose of this committee is to recommend readily achievable ways to make the library barrier-free to Millbury's physically challenged residents. If you are interested in serving on this committee, call 865-1181.

Clerks name Moore 'Legislator of the Year'

Moore, who serves as House Chairman of the Legislature's Committee on Election Laws, has worked closely with the clerk's on legislation regarding voter registration and election procedures. The veteran lawmaker has chaired the Election Laws Committee since the beginning of the 1993 session.

Praise Band to lead singing

GRAFTON - The Praise Band will lead the singing at the 10 a.m. Worship Service on July 11 at the Union Congregational Church of South Grafton. The public is invited.

Summer programs at Library

MILLBURY - Kids are invited to the Millbury Public Library for its new stitchery program, "Gone Fishin." This is a three week program on Tuesday's at 3 p.m. In keeping with our watery theme, bring some of your favorite sea shells and learn how to make a necklace from them on Friday July 16 at 10:30.

The library's Family Film series will feature Charlotte's Web Wednesday, July 14, from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

Computer classes for kids and their parents are held on Tuesday, July 27 and Thursday, July 15. Call for times and information.

Register for these and many more exciting summer programs by calling 865-1181.
